Times of the tide are taken from the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey tables. The tides at Kahului and Hilo occur about one hour earlier than at Honolulu. Honolulu standard time is 10 hours 30 minutes slower than Greenwich time, being that of the meridian of 157 degrees 30 mins. The time whistle blows at 1:30 p.m., which is the same as Greenwich 0 hours 0 minutes. The sun and moon are for local time for the whole group.

LIVELY TIMES AT ISLAND PORTS

The island steamers are experiencing considerable difficulty in discharging cargo at island ports, owing to the boisterous weather which prevails. In many instances, cargo is being carried beyond its destination, owing to the impossibility of landing it; this is particularly so with regard to Laupahoehoe and Kukuiahae. The Mauna Kea which arrived this morning from Maui and Hawaii ports, reports strong winds with heavy northerly swell on the outward run, with considerable of a sea running at Mahukona. It was too rough at Laupahoehoe to land cargo. The Mauna Kea reports the Helene at Ookala, the Kaulani at Kukaiaha and the Kauai in Hilo.

Similar conditions obtained on the homeward run, strong trades with heavy northerly swell, and again Laupahoehoe had to be passed by without leaving cargo there. The steamer Kauai remained in Hilo, the Helene at Papanaloa, Kaulani at Waipio, and Likelike at anchor off Mahukona. The Mauna Kea reports that none of the boats are able to work cargo on account of the rough weather, which is accompanied by rain.

The Wallele left Kawahae on the arrival of the Mauna Kea, bound for Napoopoo to land cattle and pineapples and she is expected to arrive in Honolulu on Sunday. She still has her Kukuiahae freight on board.

The steamer Claudine was at Lahaina when the Mauna Kea left there, the Mikahala had left at 10 p. m. on December 2nd for Kipahulu, and the Maui was weather bound at Kahului.

The schooner Spokane and the steamer Wilhelmina are reported at Hilo by the Mauna Kea.

The Mauna Kea had a small cargo on arrival this morning, but she had thirty-eight cabin and 89 deck passengers on board. The cargo includes: 254 sheep, ten crates of chickens, six pieces koa lumber, fifteen empty beer kegs, two sacks of awa and 90 packages of sundries.

Between way ports the Mauna Kea carried ten cabin and two deck passengers. Deck passengers for Honolulu included 45 Japanese, 15 Portuguese, five Porto Ricans, four Chinese, five Hawaiians and fifteen Russians.

ROUGH WEATHER.

The Noeau from Kauai ports also arrived this morning and has a similar report to the Mauna Kea with regard to weather and difficulty in landing freight. The Kealia, Anahola and Kapaa cargo was discharged on Wednesday last, the Hanalei freight on Thursday, but the weather was too rough to land the freight for Kilauea, Kailiwal and Wainiha, which still remains on board the Noeau. There were no passengers on the Noeau. This very heavy weather has tied up most of the Inter-Island steamers. It is expected that the Wallele, the Mikahala and the Kinau will arrive in port tomorrow.

SIBERIA IN ROUGH SEAS.

The Pacific Mail steamer Siberia is meeting with heavy seas crossing the Pacific, and it will not be surprising if she does not make port until Tuesday morning next. A wireless message received by the agents, Hackfeld and Company, states that at 8 p. m. last night the vessel was then 991 miles from Honolulu, meeting with heavy weather. If the Siberia makes her usual speed of fifteen knots she should arrive in port on Monday next about noon, but it is considered likely that the weather will delay the vessel and she will not get in until late Monday or early Tuesday.
